And now since the MLG Columbus is over and losed against Natus Vincere (again D:) i thought i have time to write but then i became a hype for Battlefield Bad Company 2 and all. But enough about me.****

>â€ŽYou really think we should do this?" asks Wendy with a worried look. â€ŽYeah. We talked about that for so long and i think its the best." answered her boyfriend as he take her hand to comfort her.

â€žThen lets get this behind us!" she stated and let out Stans hand and go with him behind her in the classroom.

They were now in the ninth grade in the same classroom and the same classmates and the same teacher who comes everytime to late. So Wendy and Stan used this time to speak to their class.

â€žGuys!" said Stan to the class who seems not really interested what their classmate have to tell them. Butters plays with his pencils. Kyle got upset about some jew jokes from Cartman. Craig flipped them off and talked with Tweek. Clyde played with his phone. Bebe, Heidi and Red talked about one of their lists.

â€žGUYS!" Stan screamed this time with his evil voice. Since Satan controlled him to destroy the Canadian devil he still have the voice of anger from the Antichrist inside him. As the whole class heard Stans devilish scream, they immediately look forward to Stan and Wendy.

â€žThank you, Stan!" Wendy looked to him before she walked to the board. â€žWe have to tell you something."

â€žOh god. The revenge of the hippies began!" Cartman joked.

â€žShut up, fatass!" Kyle screamed at him to be quiet. â€žGo on Wendy. Whats up?"

â€žEverybody of you know that Stan and me are together and we had some break ups since we started to date. We talked about that a lot of times and now we want to say that we officially broke up." she said.

â€žWe definitely had our good times and our bad times but now we finally understand that we have too many complications to have a normal relationship. So we break up in peace." Stan said as he go to Wendy. â€žWere still friends and we still meet us as friends. The reason why we wanted to say it to you is because theyre going a lot of rumors around and to prevent that we decided to say it in front of you all." Stan said.

â€žSo youre officially no longer together." Kyle asks.

â€žNo. Were still friends but no more." answered Wendy.

â€žSo now is Kyles great moment to tell everyone that hes Stans boyfriend." Cartman joked to anger his friend.

â€žShut up, fatass!" Kyle screamed.

â€žWhoa whoa whoa. Calm down Kahl. You definitely have some sand in your vagina."

â€žI DONT HAVE SAND IN MY VAGINA!" Kyle yelled and punched Cartman in the face before he get out of his chair and left the class. He run straight to the boys bathroom and locked the door. Then he looks under the openings of the toilet cabins and when the air was pure he begin to laugh.

He laughed full of joy because his beloved girl finally breaks up with her boyfriend. In this moment hes not interested that his best friend lost his girlfriend.

Since Wendy spent more time with Stan and him he developed feelings for her. He wanted to tell her about his crush but there was everytime one problem. Her boyfriend. Stan. He was her boyfriend and contemporaneous his best friend. So he cant say it to her without him around. And then was another problem. What when she tell him about his crush. He would definitely hate Kyle and maybe she too. He would maybe win Wendys heart but he would lose his best friend. And Kyle didnt want that this happens. So he kept his secret. Until now. Now he have the chance to gesture her his feelings. But there still was Stan. Whats with him. He have to tell him that he have a crush on his old girlfriend. Sooner or later.

After he get out of the bathroom he go back to the class where Mister Garisson already was.

“Oh does Mister Broflovski finally come back. Then lets start with the lesson.” Mister Garisson said in a bored tone.

When the final rang comes everybody runs out of the school. After them Stan and Kyle came out of the school. Stan noticed that Kyle was really happy but he dont know what about.

“Hey Kyle. Why are you so happy?” he asks with a smile.

“Because | nothing.” Kyle said. He wasnt the best liar but he fears his friends reaction when he tell him that he have a crush on Wendy.

“Come on Kyle. I know youre no good liar.” Stan asks again.

“Because | ”

“Is it because my break up with Wendy!” asks Stan.

“No im just happy that this all is over now. No offense but all this on and offs. They were irritating.” Kyle explained.

“Maybe youre right. But thats how it is. Were now no longer together and i think its the best what we can do. I mean, when you have feelings for a girl and youre with her and you think she the best what happens in your life. But then you see that shes not the right. Your feelings dwindle. Wendy is nice, but we have many too complications.” Stan said.

“So what does Cartman mean, when he said, that this would be your great moment to say that youre my boyfriend.” Stan asks.

“Thats only because were best friends and he likes to make fun of me.” Kyle said. “Why youre asking?”

“Because when he makes fun of us i dont really listen to him. I ignore that most of the time.” Stan explained.

“That explains so many things!” Kyle said with a grin.

“Hey! Do you want to play some Black Ops 3. Yesterday ive got some new skins.” he asks.

“Of course. I've not played it since days.” Kyle accepts and goes followed his friend in his house.

>So let me know what you're thinking. And for myself. I don't play BO3. There are too many kids in this game. I just put this game in the story to make it more authentically. And I'm more the type for the Battlefield and Counter Strike franchise.

>Kyle entered Stan's room. His friend searched in the kitchen for some snacks for them when they play. He goes to the PlayStation 4 from his friend and starts the console. Then he goes to his bed and takes his controller. When he doesn't know it better then he would say that Stan played the full night. Since they reached the seventh class, Stan becomes more and more a gamer. Because of that he fought a few times with Wendy.

As he takes his controller he saw the picture of him Wendy and Stan on his nightstand. He takes the controller away and looks at the picture. He only looks at Wendy. Her eyes. Her smile. Her hair. Her beautiful nose. His heart began to flutter when he looked more and more at the picture. He only had eyes for her. He strokes with his finger over Wendy and he held the picture to his nose. He looks a last time at Wendy's eyes before he kissed the side where Wendy was.

“Dude? What the fuck are you doing?” screams a voice from the door.

Kyle looked frightened to the door where his best friend stands.

Crisps and Cola in his hands. He stormed in the room. And looked at the picture.

“What the heck are you doing?” asks Stan again. Kyle looked away in embarrass. This was too embarrassing for him but now he need a good excuse to explain that.

“KYLE?” screams Stan with a tone of his devilish voice. For some reason makes that Kyle anxiety.

He began to stutter. “Stan. I-It isnt w-what it seems like.”

“Then why are you kissing a picture of us. Are you gay or something?” Stan asks now with more of this own voice but he still was annoyed. Kyle dont know what to do. Everytime when he was in trouble or something he had Plan B but now he dont know what to do. What should he do? Should he lie and say that hes gay. That would maybe destroy their friendship. But then he dont lie he have to tell him that he have a crush on his old girlfriend. Kyle looked down in frustration because he dont know what to do. Tears dropped down his face and Stan calmed down a little bit. He doesnt want to fear him. He take the picture from Kyles hand and turned around.

“Do you really have a crush on me?” asked Stan monotone like Craig everytime does.

Kyle fought with his own thoughts. Should he lie to him that hes gay or should he tell him that he have feelings for Wendy. Maybe its finally time to tell him the truth. Kyle know that he put now everything on one card.

“Stan.” Kyle looked up and put his hand on his shoulder so he turns to him. “You have to know-”.

“What?” asks Stan as he take his best friends hand off his shoulder.

“Im in love with Wendy!” Kyle finally said. These words sticked in his throat like a stone. But finally its spoken out. He looked on Stan. He seems at first totally overrun. He looked on Kyle and then he looked on the picture where he was with Kyle and Wendy.

“Im in love her since the fourth grade. Do you remember the egg project. She and me were in the same team.” Kyle began to explain. “At first i dont want to believe it but the more weve worked together the more the my feelings grows.”

“So you was always in love with her.” Stan said unsure and annoyed at he same time.

“Yeah. But believe me Stan. I dont have anything to do with your break ups in the last years.”

“But why dont you tell me about that.” asks Stan and look in his friends face like he wants to look in his soul.

“Because you said she was off-limits for everyone. And I dont want to lose you as friend. And maybe she too.” said Kyle with tears in his eyes. Now he get the price for his crush on his best friends ex-girlfriend. He closed his eyes because he wants to sink in a deep hole where he never comes out. Hes out of options. No ideas. No Plan B! Nothing! He expect a hit from his friend for the crush on Wendy. His thoughts fight about who the hit will get. In the face. In the stomach. He dont know. He just wait for the punishment for but after a few seconds he realize that nothing happened. He slightly opened his eyes.

He saw a still worried and angered Stan with crossed arms. The picture still in his left hand. He looked at his friend like he wants to beat the shit out of him. Kyle wants to break the ice. "I can understand when were no longer best friends." he said. These words are really hard for him to speak out. Stan was always his best friend. Since theyre kindergardeners. And even earlier. But now he think he destroyed with his crush on Wendy their friendship. He sniffed and wants to turn around to go but Stan take his hand on his friends shoulder.

"Its okay, Kyle! I can understand that!" Stan said in a more calmer voice. Kyle turned around with whinerly eyes. He was speechless. Were his thoughts are so dramatic that he thought his best friend, no his super best friend would end their friendship because he have a crush on his ex-girlfriend.

"So youre not mad at me because i have a crush on Wendy?" he asks a little bit worried.

"Oh Dude. Im not mad at you because you like Wendy. Im mad at you because you dont tell me anything about it." he said and take his hand from Kyles shoulder.

"So were still best friends?"

"Best friends" answered Stan. "But that take our friendship on a hard test." he added.

"And im sorry for that." said Kyle as he wiped the last tears away. Stan stretched his arms as he wants to hug Kyle and they hugged each other. As they separated they looked at each other with a little blush.

"Oh god. That was so gay!" Stan said as he rub his neck.

"Yeah!" said Kyle rubbing his neck too.

So Kyle passed one of the hardest tests of his life and saved his friendship with Stan. But there are a much more harder test. How should he gesture Wendy his feelings?
